Schuh not guilty

by Elaine Wilson and Janice Harrington
Review writers

An Olds area man was found not guilty last week on charges of sexually assaulting young girls.

Arnold Kim Schuh was acquitted of all seven charges laid against him last June. The ruling was made in Didsbury last Wednesday by Provincial Court Judge John James.

The acquittal ended a lengthy trial for Schuh over charges which involved girls between the ages of four and 12. In making his decision, Judge James said he had to give credence to arguments by the defense against the credibility and consistency of the child witnesses. Acknowledging that a common sense approach had to be used when weighing and interpreting the children's testimony, Judge James also added that their sincerity and innocence could be "seductive" and that caution was needed to separate minor and major inconsistencies.

Judge James said it was not enough that the possibility existed that Schuh could be guilty after he read aloud some pieces of what he considered inconsistent testimony.

Schuh, age 37, will now be able to return to his home in Olds. The man had been living outside the town since he first appeared on the charges in June and was ordered to stay out of Olds and away from minors.

Math marks a concern for school division

by Janice Harrington
Review Editor

Diploma marks for Chinook's Edge student sin Math 30 have been consistently under the provincial average over the past five years, creating a concern over the jurisdictions math program.

Chinook's Edge senior administrator Dr. Warren Phillips told the school board an analysis of Math 30 diploma exam results showed a long term problem with the results when compared to the rest of the province.

"We have been below average each of the past five years, that's why we feel the problem is systemic," Dr. Phillips said.

Some of the obvious areas of concern - for example too many students taking Math 30 who should be taking Math 33, doesn't explain why Chinook's Edge results are lower than the provincial average, he said, because the same problems exist in other school jurisdictions.

"We have tried different things in the past because of these results," Dr. Phillips said. "We have tried more (training for teachers), using more resources, but it hasn't seemed to work."

He said the administrators are continuing to look into the problem in order to find a solution.

As for other diploma exam results, Dr. Phillips said the results from 1995 showed Chinook's Edge students were above the provincial average in English 30, Biology 30 and Chemistry 30. Students met the provincial average in English 33 and Physics 30 and were below the average in Social Studies 30 and Math 30.

ENVIRONMENT TIPS

Is there a lot of paper around your house Christmas morning? Try to throw away less by using inventive wrapping techniques. Some people dress up newsprint, other wrap their gifts in other gifts like tea towels or scarves. Some also use reusable Christmas bags for a pretty change of pace. If you must use Christmas wrap, look for the recycled paper available in many stores.

New recreation committee finally in place

by Janice Harrington
Review Editor

Didsbury's new joint recreation committee with the county held its first meeting last month, after two years of negotiation.

Ken Luck, Didsbury's Community Services Director, said the new joint committee held its first meeting in late November and finally collected more than $65,000 in recreation funding from the county for 1995.

Didsbury has been without a recreation committee since November 1993 when the Didsbury and District Recreation Board held its final meeting after formally terminating its agreement with the county. At issue was funding levels from the county.

Sundre and Olds also opted out of their recreation agreements with the county, sparking a two year debate with county council on funding levels. That debate was finally resolved when the county announced a new recreation funding policy earlier this year which factors in a per capita ratio.

While Luck said he was pleased a new agreement with the county was reached which set up a new joint committee, recreation funding levels did not meet expectations. Under the new county funding policy, Didsbury will lose more than $12,000 over the next three years. The town received $65,033 in 1995, the same funding level as 1995, but the amount will drop to $59,611 in 1996, $54,181 in 1997 and to $48,677 in 1998, depending on assessment rates and population growth.

Olds, which has a larger population rate but a lower assessment rate, will recoup nearly all of Didsbury's recreation funding loss in the next three years.

But while the money is disappearing from Didsbury coffers for recreation, Luck said it is time to let the issue go and concentrate on other areas where the county and the town can come to some agreement on cost sharing.

School board opts to stay in

by Janice Harrington
Review Editor

Despite a court decision which gives public school board the right to opt out of the Alberta School Foundation fund, Chinook's Edge school has decided to remain within its structure.

A court challenge by the Alberta School Boards Association and several public school boards was concluded last week with the finding that the Alberta government had discriminated against public school boards when it gave separate school boards the right to opt out of the funding system which puts taxation for education in the province's hands. Previously, school board had the right to set their own mill rate and tax locally to pay for education. The new taxation system is part of Alberta Education's program to equalize funding across the province.

Dr. Altha Neilson, school superintendent for Chinook's Edge said it would be foolish to drop out of that program because it provides more dollars than Red Deer and Mountain View counties collected under the old system.

"There is a real movement to get spending under control in this province and if we tax locally in order to get more money, that would be seen as going in the wrong direction," Dr. Neilson said. "(And besides) if we have to send out a tax notice with Chinook's Edge's name on it, (well,) I'd just as soon somebody else take the flack."

Dr. Neilson added that taxing locally would only increase the cost of administration for Chinook's Edge.

"It just means we'd have to hire a couple of more people to set up the tax collection system," she said.

She said Chinook's Edge is working to keep central office administration costs under the 4 percent mark of their budget, as recommended by Alberta Education.

But while Chinook's Edge is opting to stay in the ASFF, other school jurisdictions are taking advantage of the ruling to opt out. Dr. Neilson said she knew of some boards who have jumped on the decision but she said that was because they had lost funding in equalized assessment.

I can't say what it is exactly about the entire federal attempt to appease Quebec with this regional veto thing that makes me ill, but something sure stinks in the state of Canada.

Perhaps it is Ralph Klein's attempt to gain votes with his "just say not to veto" anthem or the provinces acting like a group of spoiled children unhappy because one got something better than the other. But more than likely, the sickness comes from the sense of disappointment I'm feeling with the Chretien government.

I expected greater statesmanship from the man who supposedly shares my own sense of federalism and belief in strong centralist government.

Instead he has chosen to take the easy road by trying to appease Quebec and ended up creating a family squabble over the turkey wishbone.

This regional veto idea simply will not go over with the provinces who feel they too should get the right to determine single-handedly how the country is run. I can't say why Alberta and B.C. should have the veto - it certainly can't be over population density. Simply that they contribute largely to the economic health of our country is not a good enough reason because who knows exactly when that may change.

Giving each province veto power puts us right back where we were at Meech Lake and we all know how that ended.

Besides, in the long run, it is not more power in the provincial coffers the people of Quebec crave, it is simply respect for their unique heritage and language, a chance to practise their own traditions without the stigma of discrimination. The fact that the rest of Canada is more than willing to allow this for any culture seems to have been lost to them, but that is besides the point.

The real issue is over how we create a federal government which appears to be free of regional interests, one which really represents the good of Canada as a whole. Already we are fractionalized to the point where the west whines if there aren't enough cabinet members from the prairies and Quebec threatens separation when they aren't satisfied with the concessions handed to them.

Sooner or later all the regions and their governments will come to realize slicing up a piece of cardboard does not make it stronger, just easier to tear.

Quote of the week

"Tomorrow". That's the Christmas wish of the soldier, the saying which was supposed to end the Christmas wish story on the Lifestyles page in last week's edition. A layout snafu cut off the word but we hope printing the ending here will have just as much meaning.

The public opinion

by Bill McLaughlin
CKUA Correspondent

It's gotta be the new government term of the month. You know something's up every time you hear one of those terms: Rightsizing, negative growth, multistakeholders. Terms so deliberately fuzzy that even the rookie reporters look up and take notice when one of them comes floating by. This month it's "soft cap".

Albertans have already told the government what they want with Video Lottery Terminals (VLTs). They want fewer of them. They want them less accessible, moved out of bars and into non-profit casinos. And they want the right to vote to keep them out of individual communities.

And that's what they're getting. Well, more or less. After a few weeks reviewing the report from Judy Gordon's committee, which spent ten months asking Albertans what they wanted, Lotteries Minister Steve West has agreed to a long list of recommendations. That list will be liberally sprinkled with asterisks, though.

Consider the recommendation that the number of VLTs be capped. West says yes, it will be capped at 6,000. But not really.

"The cap of 6,000 has flexibility because we have a backlog of applications. We didn't fix to absolute. We have to have some flexibility to ensure that we don't disrupt the playing field. We're calling it a flexible cap."

Come again? Well, West says he doesn't want to prelude any applications for new VLTs. "It's a soft cap, a flexible cap. You may, in two or three years, see a variance from the 6,000, yes."

West's vague replies are troubling because the Hotel Association, which has strong and longstanding Tory connections, has been lobbying hard to keep VLTs. West insists he isn't removing the cap, at least "not in a major way".

When pressed, West told reporters there could be 6600 machines in the short term. Minutes later, though, he admitted that after a couple of years, the cap could be much higher, depending on the number of bars and lounges that apply for a licence.

Things get even fuzzier when you factor in what's happening with the machines and when it's happening. For starters, nothing changes for one full year. Then, slowly, over the course of years, actually, the lounges that feature row upon row of VLTs will lose them, one or two at a time. Consider Edmonton's Rosslyn

Hotel, which had 37 machines until recently.

"At the end of a year," says West, "he'll have 21 machines. At the end of five years, he'll have seven." So Albertans will get what they want in limiting the number of VLTs in each bar, but they won't get it for five years.

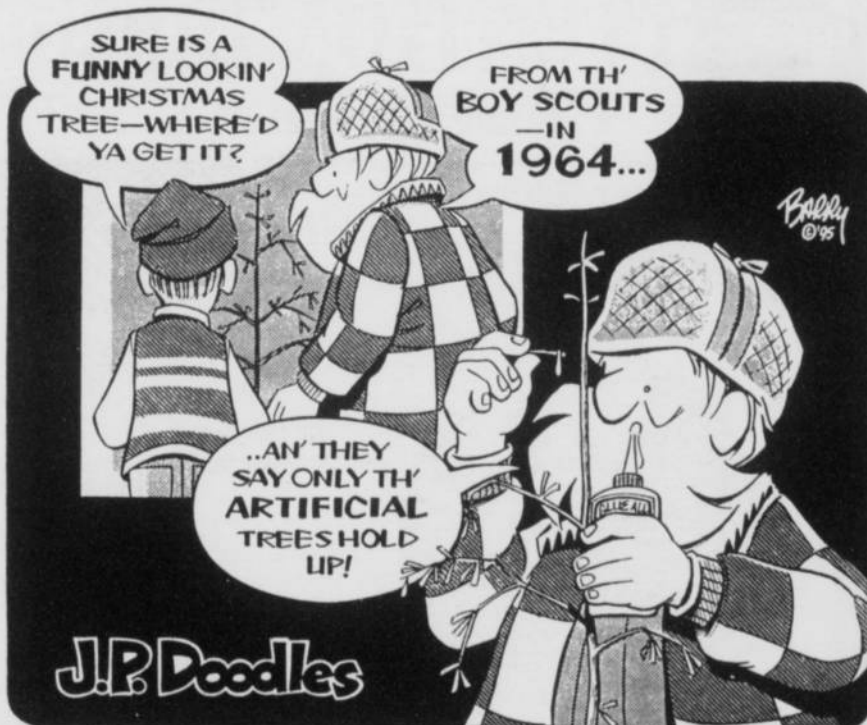

And what they get in five years, is a major increase in the number of places to go to play the slots. As Judy Gordon notes, "they found VLTs far too accessible." But the plan will put VLTs in many more bars. The VLTs that come out of the Rosslyn simply go to another bar that didn't have them before.

"That's true," says the Lotteries Minister, "nobody's denying that. But we can't have a two tiered system where you have some business with them and some without. I don't know why that's an amazing thing. We're just equalizing the marketplace."

There is a great deal of good news in what the government has agreed to do. Communities will be able to vote to keep VLTs out, if they're prepared to give up their share of provincial VLT revenue. Casinos will continue to be non-profit and government regulated.

But it's difficult to understand how West's plans to

Students lobby for authors

Dear Editor:

On the 16th day of November, students at Westglen School experienced a visit from author Cora Taylor. Mrs. Taylor is a member of the Young Alberta Authors. The Young Alberta Authors is a group of Alberta authors which encourages writing as a career. She determined that when writing a book you need to use experiences from your own life and dreams.

Although we were pleased with the visit from Mrs. Taylor, we learned that because of cut backs, the Young Alberta Authors may not be funded much longer. So because of this, the grade eight students have written letters to Mr. Roy Brassard informing him that we wish to keep the Young Alberta Authors funded. On the 30th of November Mr. Roy Brassard came to speak to the grade six students of Westglen at which time we presented the letters to him.

Red tape maze for extra funding

Chinook's Edge administrators are being forced to jump through a series of hoops in order to secure extra funding for the Neudorf Colony School.

Senior administrator Bill Hooper told Chinook's Edge trustees they would have to meet a series of criteria in order to requisition an extra $9000 from the colony to help cover the teacher's salary.

Hooper said Alberta Education's basic grant of $3535 for each of the 11 students at the colony school was not enough to cover the teacher's salary, leaving the school with a deficit. After negotiations with the colony on the issue, Hooper said they agreed to supplement the funding with an extra payment of $9133.

But to get the money, since the school board no longer taxes locally, the trustees must ask the County of Mountain View to issue a supplemental requisition order. The county can only do so if the colony is granted hamlet status for the purpose of the education and is given permission to requisition by the Minister of Education.

Hooper said the administration has sent a letter to the minister but are not sure whether or not the request will be approved.

At the suggestion of school trustee Deborah Cousins,

Hooper said the money could be directed to the teacher's salary through the colony's parent advisory council if the requisition route fails.

Parkland decision delayed

Chinook's Edge's decision on remaining with the Parkland Regional Library system has been delayed for another year.

After a quick investigation into the system, senior administrator Darlene Hayes told school trustees it looked like remaining with Parkland was the best use of their dollars for library systems.

"(After everything is accounted for) it only costs the jurisdiction about $60,000 altogether," Hayes said. "I feel we can't provide the same services for that price."

Cutbacks in provincial funding has meant membership with Parkland increased dramatically. It supplies various library services to all libraries, including municipal and school libraries, in the Chinook's Edge division.

But Hayes said the amount of cost she investigated was based on all current members remaining with the system and whether or not that will occur is still a question. If members drop out, the cost to the school division would increase.

The school board agreed to stay with the library system

Southwest Didsbury news

by Bessie Eckstrand
Special to the Review

Congratulations of the area go to Dan and Dawn Taylor (S.W. Didsbury/Carstairs) who celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary by having a party in the basement of the Evangelical Missionary Church (on the Carstairs Cremona Road) on Sunday, Nov. 26th (real date). Brother Brian was M.C. for the afternoon's entertainment. The 4-H Club put on a skit, several singing selections and Brian wrote and acted out a skit of brother Dan's horse activities. He made up a horse head and with a couple of young folks under a horse blanket and with a bald wig he looked and acted just like Danny. A lovely lunch was served by the ladies.

Dawn had graduated as a nurse, met Dan and married and instead of active nursing, took up home nursing care. They raised three boys. Dan was busy in a shoe shop in Carstairs for several years and then moved out to the farm where it's been horses, horses, ever since. He and Dawn started the Rocky Mountain 4-H Club 10 years ago and built a horse barn. They spent their time horse training, shoeing and trail riding. Don trains horses all over the country.

Best wishes of the area also go to Carl and Marcia Shantz (son of Royden and Cecely), who are leaving to go on mission service for the Mennonite Central Committee in Pennsylvania, USA. Marcia will work in head office and Carl will be working in the warehouse. They plan on being away for two years. Daughter Janelle is working as a secretary for the Eastern Mennonites at San Missions in Salunga, Pennsylvania. Son Jason will be staying at home.

Our area has had several funerals lately.

Oscar Maier of 1 mile west of Didsbury had been battling cancer for the last 2½ years and passed away Nov. 27th at the age of 74, in the Didsbury Health Care Center. Funeral was held Dec. 1st at the Redeemer Lutheran Church. Oscar was born Feb. 14th, 1921 in Strasbourg, Romania. When he was three-years-old he, with his parents immigrated to Canada. He joined the Canadian Armed Forces in March, 1941, shipped to England and took part in the invasion of Normandy. He saw action in France, Belgium, Holland and Germany. After his discharge he took up farming and married Lydia Heinemann on the 26th of Jan. 1946 in Grenfell, Sask. They raised three boys: Brian, Les, Ron and one daughter, Linda. They moved around quite a lot and finally partially retired to west of Didsbury in ing to people and enjoyed going for coffee down at the south restaurant Carstairs. He and families held their Christmas turkey and pot luck supper Thursday evening, Dec. 7th at

Hartmann and families and staff at Contemporary Graphics and the Didsbury Review

Galloping goodies! The Great Cookie Exchange organizers Susan Roper and Dianne Powney look over some of the treats offered at the event held in Olds over the weekend. Besides the treat swap, Santa and other entertainment was on hand along with a silent auction for a great selection of gingerbread houses. The event was part of the festivities involved with Olds Fashioned Christmas. photo by Janice Harrington.

1988. Oscar was a warm hearted person, always interested in people, sports of all kinds, boating, camping and volunteering and always took an active part in his church. Besides his immediate family he leaves to mourn his loss nine grandchildren and one great grandchild, four brothers and a host of other relatives and friends.

Another funeral was held for Samuel John Fulton of west Carstairs when he entered into rest Nov. 30, 1995 at the Olds Hospital at the age of 88 years. A memorial service was held for him on Tuesday, Dec. 5 at the Carstairs United Church. Special music was rendered by an assembly of friends from Waterloo Mennonite Church and community. Carstairs ladies served a delicious lunch. Sam was born in Strabane County, Tyrone Ireland, May 25, 1907 and at the age of 18 immigrated to Canada. He worked on farms etc., until he was able to buy his own. He married and raised three boys. His main loves were people, horses, sports of any kind - he learned to fish, at the age of 80 and he loved going out with his fifth wheel trailer. He loved talk-wife Irene attended all of the senior dances, Carstairs, Didsbury, Bowden, Olds and Sundre and attended the turkey suppers in the area. A person always felt warm and good after having talked to him. Son-in-law Ray Wall said in the eulogy "There never will be another man like Sam."

He leaves to mourn his loss his wife Irene at Chinook Winds Lodge in Carstairs and other relatives and a host of friends.

Knox U.C.W. ladies and husbands met Tuesday evening, Dec. 5th at the Church for the U.C.W. annual Christmas party with 36 present. Hazel Wilson presented a lovely devotional: "What do you give a person for Christmas, who has everything??? Love." This was accompanied by a carol sing. Ladies served a delicious lunch and brought extra baking which was packed into boxes and given to shut-ins and hospital patients.

Pam and Lea Charles moved a new house onto their acreage north of the Westcott Road and ½ mile north on Eckstrand road, about 10 days ago and got it in pretty good shape before this severe weather hit.

Birthday Club ladies and Ebba Weber's. Despite the cold weather everyone had a good time.

I would like to extend a Merry Christmas to Gene and Brad and wish them a wonderful 1996. I'm still looking for a replacement to write up Southwest Didsbury news.

Rosebud 4-H Sheep Club news

by Katie Hall
Special to the Review

Rosebud 4-H Sheep Club held its organizational meeting on October 6, 1995 at the Rosebud Hall. Because the 19 members this year live in an area from Bowden to Airdrie, we have decided to alternate meetings between Didsbury and Crossfield.

At the meeting on October 23, 1995 the following were elected as the club executive: President - Amanda Earl, Vice-President - Brad Jackson, Secretary - Sandra Pratt and Treasurer is Nancy Larsen. Club Reporters are Charlene Earl and Katie Hall; Jeremy Tilleman and Travis Pratt are the Club Historians. Mrs. Pat Earl has agreed to be the General Leader and Mrs. Linda Hall the Assistant Leader. Mrs. Joanne Pearson and Mr. Robert Jackson are our Project Leaders this year.

At our November 20th meeting, we discussed Achievement Day, 4-H on Parade, Curling, 4-H Ski Trip, public speaking, Christmas meeting and our program for the year. A report was given on the Mountain View District 4-H Dance enjoyed by some members from our club.

I would like to welcome the new members to our club and hope they enjoy the sheep project and have a successful 4-H year.

Didsbury Dragon news

Special to the Review

November was a month of freezing temperatures and lots of snow. But that was only outside the school doors. Inside, Didsbury High celebrated Education Week with their neighboring school Ross Ford. Warm hellos, excited faces, friendly letters and new lessons were evidence of the successes we enjoyed. What happened? Well, about a month ago, DHS asked Ross Ford if they could teach lessons to the elementary classes with the help of their own high school students. Ross Ford welcomed the idea and after a couple of weeks of preparation, classes arrived at our school and DHS students visited Ross Ford. It was lots of fun and here is a sampling of the classes offered:

Sports Vocabulary by Mrs. Robertson's French 30 student group; Five French 30 students performed a Sports drama, explaining the vocabulary with actions, posters, exercises and stories.

Heart Dissections by Mrs. Robertson's Biology 20/30 student group; Ten Biology students helped the teacher discuss Heart Function with posters, hand-out, computer simulation and specimens to dissect in small groups.

Line Dancing by Miss Baker's Physical Education 9 group; Miss Baker's PE class performed line dances learned in class and original dances the girls made up in class themselves.

Instrument & Band Skills by Mr. Klein's Senior Band group; A Jazz Band demonstration with mini-performances. Also, an overview of rehearsal techniques.

Science Experiments by Mr. Thompson's Chemistry class; Students set up six stations with a variety of hands on demonstrations of chemistry. Reactions involved color changes, formation of solids, oscillating reactions, even conversion of copper into gold.

Mapping Skills by Mr. Neuberger's Social 30 group; A 3-D model of Alberta was made to describe the regions and characteristics of Alberta.

Computer Processing by Miss Daines Computers class; Paired Ross Ford and DHS students to explore the different graphic programs and then creating some animation.

Beauty Culture Skills by Mrs. Bottrill's and Mrs. Williams' Vocational students; These students offered braids, shampoo and blow drying, manicures and nail art to grade 4 students.

Math Skills by Mrs. Barkley's Math 10 students; Several short math-related activities were done with the Math 10 students pairing up with the Ross Ford students at DHS.

Dictionary and Spelling Skills by Mr. Taylor's English

30 students; With help from an older partner, grade 4s were given words verbally to locate in dictionaries. It was a race to see who could find it first. Grade 12s reminded their partner how to locate words quickly in the dictionary. Using short, but often misspelled words in context - again in pairs with the grade 4 students having first try at the word.

Drama Murder Mysteries by Ms. Turner's English and Drama classes; The audience was invited to vote on which ending they prefer most for the play "Heat Lightning".

Science Experiments with MR. Banfield's Physics students; Demonstrations based on electricity including VandeGrafs Generator, Cathode Rays and Teslacoil by teacher with student explanations in DHS lab.

Next year we will try the project again. A big thanks to the Ross Ford students who eagerly participated and the DHS teachers and students who worked on these great lessons!

Westglen report

by Stacey Luft-Haerberle
Special to the Review

Everyone at Westglen is into the Christmas spirit and counting down the days until the big 25th arrives.

On Dec. 14, grades 5 through 8 will be busy setting up for the Christmas concert that will take place that evening. It starts at 7 p.m. and Mr. Valteau will be directing four bands that will be the main feature of the evening. Some of Mrs. Israelson's French classes will also be performing plays that add great fun to the evening. Mrs. Whitlow's grade 5 class will be performing the traditional spoons and there will be a special performance by the choir lead by Mrs. Harder. Grade 7 and 8 students may pick up their poinsettia plants that evening if they wish. Come out for a fun filled evening Dec. 14.

The Westglen Student Council has planned a Christmas dance on Dec. 15. The dance will begin at 7 p.m. and end at 11 p.m. The cost is $3 and if a non-perishable food item is brought the cost will be $2.50. The non-perishable food item will go into a food hamper that is sent to people for Christmas that are less fortunate than us.

I'm sure on Dec. 15 we will see lots of reindeer, elves and Christmas trees swarming the Westglen hallways. To have a little fun on this date Christmas day has been planned for all Westglen teachers and students.

Another important date in December is the annual Westglen turkey dinner. Lots of delicious hot turkey and dressing will be served on Dec. 20. Then the next day, Dec. 21, students will be dismissed after school and the Christmas holiday will begin. I'm sure everyone can't wait. I know I can't anyways. Well, I hope everyone has a Merry Christmas!

Bancroft Women's Institute news

by June Lore
Special to the Review

The Christmas meeting of the Bancroft W.I. was held at the home of Alwyn Rowntree in Didsbury. For roll call, members told about the gifts they were making for Christmas. These included handicraft, sewing and Christmas baking.

Dozens of Christmas cookies were brought to the meeting and boxed for delivery to many elderly and handicapped friends and neighbors. Plans were made for a series of Crib and Whist tournaments in 1996. The first will be held January 12 at 7:30 p.m., Midway School. The second is set for January 26, same time and location.

Members drew names for 1996 Secret Sisters. Program ideas for 1996 were discussed and noted by the Program Committee. Decisions were made to donate to Operation Eyesight Universal and the Richard Sietzema Benefit. The meeting concluded with the singing of Christmas carols and opening of gifts from Secret Sisters. A tasty lunch, prepared by Jean Swanson followed. June Lore had the lucky tea cup and received the hostess' tea prize.

A warm welcome to a new Bancroft W.I. member Joan Patterson.

The next meeting will be held January 8, 1996, at the home of Pat Vantetering.

Choir delivers Christmas message

by Shirley Portingale
Special to the Review

"For unto us a Child is born, unto us a Son is given, and the Government will be upon His shoulder. And His name will be called Wonderful, Counsellor, Almighty God, Everlasting Father, Prince of Peace". Isaiah 9:6

The prophet Isaiah's words 700 years before the birth of the saviour, was one of the songs warmly sung by the Didsbury Choral group on November 26, 1995.

The choir journeyed to the past through Israel as they sang the words of God's Promise For Mankind and The Word Became Life. The birth that did not happen in a palace, but in a manger, is celebrated around the world.

The song "Longing For You" were the thoughts of the Wise men, shepherds, Mary and Joseph, as they awaited their Messiah and the fulfillment of God's promise.

Mary who believed earnestly in God's promise was filled with joy that she a poor girl was chosen to fulfill His plan. She humbly accepted the angel's message of a miracle birth. The joy and love she felt was portrayed in the song "If You Can Hear Me Now", rendered beautifully by soloist Cindy Palin.

The choir returned to the present with a resounding finale as they sang "There is a Saviour" the theme song that preceded and ended this beautiful Christmas musical.

Adverse weather conditions did not deter people as they started filling the auditorium at 6:15. By 7 p.m. a packed gym of 275 people sat back to enjoy the program.

Guest soloist Cindy Palin sang "Sweet Little Jesus Boy" and her own composition of "Shining This Christmas". Cindy comes from Olds and her contribution to the program made this a very special night.

A short meaningful message by Pastor Steve Werdal reminded us of the true meaning of Christmas.

The choir was under the direction of Terry Whittaker.

Door prizes were given out, donated by various businesses in Didsbury and Calgary. The evening ended with coffee and delicious Christmas baking brought in by the ladies.

The Way of Life

by Pastor Richard Pahl
Zion Evangelical Missionary Church

The rest of the story

If you took a quick survey at this time of year to the question, "What does Christmas mean to you?", you would probably get a variety of answers. Whether those interviewed are children or adults, the responses would probably be something like this: "presents, parties, holidays from school, Santa, turkey dinners, family gatherings, carols and Baby Jesus." There are probably more answers that might be given but these would be the most frequent.

But what does Christmas really mean? The most common answer would be, "the Christmas story about the birth of Jesus." That is an excellent answer but it is still not the complete answer. The Christmas story involves much more than just the fact that Christ was born in a stable nearly 2,000 years ago. To best describe what all is involved, let me share a poem with you written by W. Beckley. The title of this poem reminds me of the popular radio stories by Paul Harvey, "The Rest Of The Story." Paul Harvey begins a story and then concludes it following a commercial break. Mr. Beckley also tells the story but without the commercial break.

"We are wont to sing of shepherds, And the heavenly glory bright,

Of the angels and their message,

On that peaceful, holy night; Of the virgin mother Mary, And the Babe so meek and mild,

Of the worship of the wise men,

When they found the heavenly Child.

But so oft we end the story, When 'tis only just begun,

For we fail to give the message,

That this Child is God the Son;

God, come down from heavenly glory,

To this world of sin and strife,

Here to pray and toil and suffer,

Here to live the perfect Life; Here to give Himself a Ransom,

Crucified on Calvary's tree, Through His blood providing pardon,

Perfect cleansing, full and free.

And the tomb, thank God, is empty,

Jesus sits at God's right hand,

Now a loving, mighty Savior, Spread the news to every land.

Oh! I love the Christmas story,

When the news is told complete;

For 'twas thus the Spirit brought me

Prostrate at the Savior's feet; And when He shall come in glory,

Take me to Himself, I know

I shall still repeat the story, That I learned so long ago."

As we celebrate this Christmas season and are reminded of the Christmas story, let's not just think of the birth of Christ, but let's include his entire life and ministry to make the story complete. As we share this good news this year we can then say along with Paul Harvey, "And now you know the rest of the story."

Doug Brander Didsbury Farm and Ranch Bonspeil

A fourth member of each rink participating in the Didsbury Farm and Ranch Bonspeil planned for the new year will come from the commercial sector. Doug Brander, on board for Greenline, said it was a great idea and looks forward to the event for several reasons. "It's good advertising," he said, "You meet people and you see people you haven't seen for years. I see a lot of my customers; it's a place to contact people and talk with them and it's a lot of fun besides." The second year of the annual event is currently booking rinks through Neil Youngs at 335-4496. The entry fee is $80 with four banquet tickets (and a plethora of extras in the booking package including meal discounts and tickets). Rinks are to consist of three farmers (men or women) and one business person. The business person will be drawn and assigned to a rink. All participants must be within the County of Mountain View, but slots are filling fast and an early registration is advised. For further information contact Ray Hannah at 335-4511.

Didsbury Ministerial Association Christmas services in Didsbury

No matter how low the temperature may drop, Didsbury churches will be offering a warm welcome over the Christmas season. At St. Cyprian's Anglican church, a 10:30 a.m. family service and a 7 p.m. Christmas Eve service will replace the regular 10 a.m. service. A family service will also be held at 10:30 on Dec. 17. There will be no service on Christmas Day, however, on Dec. 31st a service of carols and holy communion will begin at 10:30. St. Anthony's Catholic church will be holding a Christmas Eve mass at 9 p.m. in the Westglen School gymnasium. The south and north Zion Evangelical Missionary Church Christmas program will begin at 10:30 a.m. at the north Zion location and a Christmas Eve choir cantata entitled "Carols and Classics" begins at 7 p.m. at the south Zion location. Regular worship service at both south and north churches begins at 10:30 on Dec. 24. Bergthal Mennonite Church's Christmas Eve service is slated to begin at 6 p.m. with a morning service scheduled as well for 10:30. The Community Bible Church will be holding an evening Christmas Eve service and the Lutheran Redeemer's annual outdoor live Christmas Nativity Play will begin at 7:45 p.m. on the east church grounds Dec. 21-23. The United Church will be holding a Christmas Eve candlelight service at 7:30 on Dec. 24. The Mountain View Evangelical Missionary Church have scheduled their annual children's Christmas program for 7 p.m. on Dec. 17. Regular morning service will be held on Dec. 24, with a Christmas Eve candlelight communion service to be held at 7 p.m.

Don Oltrop A new face on the Didsbury RCMP force

Meet Constable Don Oltrop, the newest face on board with the local Royal Canadian Mounted Police detachment. Cst. Oltrop arrived the last week in November, replacing Cst. Andre Paradis who was transferred to Olds. Didsbury is posting number four for Oltrop, who previously patrolled the streets of Provost, Grande Cache and Airdrie during his eighteen and a half years on the force. While he's not a hockey fan, he does intend to make use of Didsbury's aquatic centre and also enjoys hunting and camping. New assignments include taking over the reins as Rural Crime Watch Coordinator and getting on board with the Carstairs Community Advisory Committee. He said initial impressions of Didsbury were of a positive nature. "I like Didsbury," he said, adding that he looks forward to getting to know more about the community and its residents.

Kathy Traub Greyhound's run for the less fortunate

Greyhound Lines of Canada have been providing shipping services for the Operation Christmas Child shoebox program for several years now and it's something local agent Kathy Traub looks forward to each year.

"I think it's an excellent idea and Didsbury is really good about donations and support," Traub said. "It lets people become involved and the kids really love it. The kids will tell me what they've put in the boxes; it's a lot of fun."

Shipments were up in 1995 from approximately 40 boxes in 1994 to 58 this year. The local schools got involved as they have annually, bundling up a truckload delivered by organizer Pam Whitlow. Between them, school children at Ross Ford and Westglen packed and shipped 100 boxes to the Samaritan's Purse Calgary headquarters. So far this year, Greyhound Courier Express has shipped 40,000 shoe boxes and is expecting that number to reach close to 75,000. David Shaw, spokesperson for Greyhound, said his company is proud to be associated with Samaritan's Purse, a program they consider very worthwhile.

Christine Ahmad Tree of Hope campaign update

The Tree of Hope campaign, run by the Mountain View Palliative Care Association, is underway and going well. The last three weekends, tables have been set up at various businesses around town and donation forms have been sent to the service clubs and churches in the area. So far, 50 light bulbs have been placed on the Tree of Hope, which is located in the town centre, by the gazebo. The lights represent the $300 raised to date. Pictured is town engineer Wes Yeoman attaching bulbs to the light strings hung by town employees last week.

Ross Ford Elementary Superkids

This week's Superkids from Ross Ford Elementary are: Sarah McEwen, Katherine O'Brien, Jeri Comer, Tiffany Mossip, Valerie Evenson, Allison McCoy, Ashley Engel, Sarah Evans, Corey McEwen, Nicole Adamchick, Jordan Meyer, Jordan Luft, Michael Whalen and Ross Sundberg. Missing from the picture are Superkids Devon Green, Rebecca Knudsen and Liesbeth van Besouw.

A great place to go

by Elaine Wilson
Review writer

What do you call a place that is open, sunny, warm, and welcoming that features two oversized four by eight pool tables, five video games, two pinball machines and a variety of hot and cold snacks and drinks?

This is the question facing owners Jason and Linda Speer and parent/partners Bert and Enid Speer.

"We've been trying really hard to come up with a name," proprietor Jason Speer said.

They want the name to reflect the comfortable atmosphere of the leisure centre located at 2014 -18 Ave (one block west of Checker Auto and directly south behind Steve's). All suggestions offered by visitors to the new establishment will be considered, but in the end, Jason will make the final decision.

"I'm going to be really picky about the name," he said with a smile.

He and his family have taken equal care in renovations, having spent several weeks painting and decorating the interior to make the surroundings cosy and relaxed.

The exterior is the next project and signage awaits both a decision on a name and how the outside of the building will enhance the building itself and Didsbury's downtown core plan. Jason and Bert are working with Mainstreet coordinator David Mohr to come up with a design that incorporates the elements Didsbury is considering as part of the total downtown theme.

The word "comfortable" was used often by Jason in describing the atmosphere.

"We want everyone to feel comfortable," he said. Teenagers will enjoy the arcade, pool, music and snacks, while seniors who have dropped by appear to appreciate both the amenities and the groupings of tables which seat 18, inviting conversation and warmth. Jason said he hoped a mother walking by with her four-year-old would feel as welcome as the teens grouped around the pool tables. He also promised that the posted hours would be maintained. Hours of operation Monday to Thursday are from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m. On Fridays and Saturdays hours run from 11 to 11 p.m. and on Sundays, the doors open after church at 12 noon, running through to 10 p.m.

The Speers ran a similar and very successful family operation in Ontario for many years called The Emporium where Jason learned the ins and outs of such a business as a youngster. His background and sincere aspiration to create a welcoming atmosphere is what fuels the business.

"Didsbury can use a place like this," Jason said. "I think it can be a success if it's run properly - and that's what we intend to do."

Leisure time. Didsbury residents, young and old, looking for a place to spend some leisure time can look to the new Leisure centre, as yet unnamed, recently opened in the white building behind Checker Auto Parts. The centre is owned and operated by Jason Speer, who's family ran a similar operation in their former home in Ontario. photo by Elaine Wilson

Contractor plans Didsbury roots

by Janice Harrington
Review Editor

A contracting company which moved part of its organization to Didsbury three years ago, is planning to make its home here.

Columbia Rail Contractors is currently building a new office building at the business park at the intersection of highways 2A and 582. Once finished, the building will become the new head office for CRC.

Originally from Golden B.C., CRC moved part of its operations to Didsbury after taking on a contract to work on a spur line between Harmattan and Didsbury for CP Rail. Joe Alexander, president of CRC, said they moved approximately half of the operation to Didsbury at that time, in 1992. Since then, they have taken on several contracts in the area, including many with the town.

Alexander said the decision to move the entire operation to Didsbury stemmed from the difference between provincial governments.

"Alberta is a lot friendlier to contractors than the government in B.C.," he said. "We like the government here."

The change in head office location will do little to change the location of the jobs the company undertakes. Alexander said his company has contracts all across Alberta and B.C. and they plan to continue that.

Alexander, who moved his family to Didsbury three years ago, said his company employs about 20 people during the busy summer months. The new head office is expected to be complete by spring.

Christmas shopping hours

Businesses in downtown Didsbury are extending their hours for the Christmas season to ensure everyone has time to complete their holiday shopping.

Extended hours will be:
December 21 to 9 p.m., December 22 to 9 p.m., December 23 to 6 p.m.

What's cooking?

Sometimes nothing says comfort like food. A pot of hot chocolate, a bowl of steaming soup or a favorite dish from childhood can all add a warm glow to even the coldest winter day.

One food that lends itself perfectly to soul-warming dishes is pasta because it pairs well with many types of sauces and it's ideal for soups, casseroles, stir fries and other quick meals.

Rigatoni with Sausage and Mushrooms is a flavor-filled example. Preparation time is minimal and the results are nothing short of delicious.

For more enticing pasta recipes, write for your complimentary "Pasta! Worth Celebrating!"

Rigatoni with Sausage and Mushrooms

In large nonstick skillet, heat half of the oil and brown sausages. Remove sausages and cool slightly; slice into 1/4-inch (1 cm) rounds; set aside. In clean saucepan, heat remaining oil; sauté onion and garlic 2-3 minutes. Add red or yellow pepper and mushrooms; cook until tender. Stir in wine; cook 3-4 minutes or until most of the liquid is absorbed. Add puréed tomatoes and reserved sausages. Bring to a boil. Reduce heat; simmer 15 minutes. Stir in basil and olives. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Cook rigatoni according to package directions. Toss rigatoni with sauce.

Makes 4 - 6 servings.

2 tbsp	olive oil	25 mL
4	sweet or hot Italian sausages	4
1	onion, finely chopped	1
2	cloves garlic, chopped	2
1	red or yellow pepper, chopped (optional)	1
1/2 lb.	mushrooms, cut in half	250 g
6 tsp	dry white wine	90 mL
1 can	(28 oz./796 mL) tomatoes, puréed	1 can
1/4 cup	chopped fresh basil	50 mL
1/4 cup	pitted olives, sliced	50 mL
1 pkg	Salt and fresh ground pepper (500 g) Catelli Shapes Rigatoni	1 pkg

Main Street Beat

DAVID MOHR

Didsbury Main Street Coordinator

Why would the Internet be important in our scheme of things? The Internet is unique in that it is a world wide standard for multi-media information flow. Over the Internet and the World Wide Web a person can move text, sound, images (still and moving) and even movie clips. In fact, there are people who use the Internet to speak to each other from around the world without using (and paying for) long distance lines. As a communication tool the Internet is very versatile.

But what exactly is the Internet? The Internet is a collection of computers that speak to each other with a common agreement by their users on what language to use and on what method will be used to communicate. The Internet can also be described by its functions. One function is electronic mail, another is global collaboration through discussion groups and another is information access and retrieval. One of the most interesting is the function of publishing and reading information through websites popularly known as 'homepages'. E-mail is a particularly useful tool for communicating, especially with persons who live some distance away. This service is generally included with Internet service and requires only a simple computer program. Some people have estimated that over four billion e-mail messages were sent in 1994 alone. E-mail's advantage is that other electronic material can be attached to an e-mail message such as word processor files, graphics or spreadsheets.

Businesses can utilize the Internet with great success as well. The activities for which business use the Internet can be broadly categorized into three areas: marketing, customer relations and gathering market intelligence. The Internet is a tool for businesses to better serve their customers. Many business organizations also use the Internet for their own varied corporate activities including R&D, public relations, information dissemination and internal communication. As mentioned in my last column the Main Street Office has an active e-mail site and the address is didsmain@cadvision.com and I welcome your comments and criticisms via e-mail as well as in the more traditional methods.

BRZ / MAIN STREET BITS: Thanks to everyone who came out to the BRZ Information meeting last week. Everyone's comments were appreciated and gave much food for thought. As a newcomer to Didsbury this meeting gave me a chance to see what the BRZ had been involved in as well as some of the issues that are in its members' minds.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY DINNER: The Didsbury and District Historical Society's annual gala Christmas Dinner on December 6, 1995 at the Elks Hall on Main Street was a resounding success.

HERITAGE CHRISTMAS TOUR AND TEA: On Saturday, December 9th at 12:30 p.m. this tour was conducted for the purpose of raising funds to replace the street sign posts in the historical residential sections of town with signs of a special design incorporating the original names of the streets. For more information contact Linda Plewis (335-8341) or Shauna Brassard (335-8236).

For more information about Main Street, the BRZ or any of the above events contact the Main Street Office at 335-3265 or visit at 2009-20th Avenue (next to the Post Office).

The Coordinator is in the Office from 10:00 a.m. to noon every week day except Wednesday. At other times please call ahead for an appointment or simply come down to visit.

celebrations and get-togethers. Her interest in quilting and handicrafts is still evident in the homes of her families. Sophie has been an inspiration and will be remembered for her determination, perseverance, independence and the ability to accept life's changes whether good or bad. She was predeceased by her husband, John on March 14, 1978; two daughters, Margaret and Violet, one son, Walter who died as infants. Her eldest son John Edward passed away in June of 1993 and her son-in-law Mike Gebers passed away in November of 1986. She was also predeceased by her step-brother Hugo Bauman in 1990 and two grandsons, Colin Reese in 1971 and Darren Reese in 1990. Sophie is survived by her children - Doreen Gebers of Calgary, Melvin (Pat) of Calgary, Florence Worsfold (Ron) of St. Albert, Harry (Lorna) of Didsbury, Harvey (Lea) of Edmonton, Norma Anning (Gary) of Olds, Robert (Marilyn) of Vancouver and Donald (Shirley) of Calgary. Also surviving are eighteen grandchildren, nine great grandchildren and one brother-in-law Karl Reese of Didsbury. Funeral services were held Wednesday, December 6, 1995 at 2:30 p.m. from Redeemer Lutheran Church, Didsbury with Pastor Robert Mohs officiating. Her grandchildren were the pallbearers. If friends desire memorial donations can be made to The Lutheran Hour or Redeemer Lutheran Church Building Fund. Mountain View Funeral Chapels entrusted with arrangements. 35-1tc

850 - IN MEMORIAM

Christiansen, Kelly James - In loving memory of our dear son and brother who left us Dec. 15, 1991.

"We were unable to say goodbye,
The day you went away,
You left us oh so suddenly,
Four years ago today.
We think of you in silence,
While silent tears fall inside,
When we speak your name,
Now all we have is your sweet memories.

And your picture in a frame.
If tears could build a stairway,
And heartaches a lane,
We'd walk the path to Heaven,
And Sweetheart bring you home again.
Our family chain is broken,
Nothing seems the same,
But Kelly as God calls us home one by one.

Our family chain will link again.
Forever loved and deeply missed Mom & Dad, Michelle 35-1tp

840 - OBITUARY

REESE - Sophie Reese of Bethany Care Centre, Airdrie passed away in the Olds Hospital on December 1st, 1995 at the age of 81 years. She was born in Oberrigenbach, Germany on October 26, 1914. She was baptized in Germany and later confirmed there on March 24, 1928. In August of 1928 she came to Canada and settled at Middle Lake, Saskatchewan where she later met and married John Robert Reese on April 8, 1937. They farmed in the Lake Lenore area until moving to Alberta in October of 1945 where they continued to farm until retiring to Olds in October of 1974. In her later years, Sophie resided at Chinook Winds Lodge, Carstairs and Bethany Care Centre Airdrie. Sophie was an active member of Redeemer Lutheran Church and her faith was reflected in how she lived. She was a hard working individual, dedicated to her husband, children, grandchildren and great grandchildren. She loved gardening, planning and preparing for family

Policy for donations needed

Chinook's Edge school board is refusing to consider any requests for donations until they come up with a policy to dictate how much money should be put aside for donations and how that money should be distributed.

The decision to wait until a policy was drafted was made at their last meeting after they received a request for funding from both the Kiwanis Music Festival and the Mountain View

Science and Technology Society which runs the annual Mountain View Science Fair.

School Superintendent Dr. Altha Neilson said the administrators have had no time to draft a policy on this issue over the past year. She added that no money had been set aside for these requests.

"When we were doing the school based decision making...we made no provisions for making donations to any cause no matter how worthy," she said.

Dr. Neilson suggested requests for donations be passed on to the affected schools until a policy is instituted. Trustees voted to do so.

But, while agreeing to send the requests to the schools for now, trustee Stu Little also suggested administration draft a policy as soon as possible.

"Sometimes this puts us in a little bit of a bad light," he said. "We need some policy on an institutional basis because this can make us look pretty cheap."

The Right Balance

Eating less fat is good. Eating no fat is bad! Some people try to lose weight by cutting out fat completely. This is both unwise and potentially dangerous. A certain amount of fat can actually help you lose weight by giving you a feeling of fullness; it maintains the functioning of your gall bladder and can be found in foods that are high in nutrients. Too much fat can increase your risk of heart disease, some types of cancer, and other diseases. Join a responsible weight loss program and find out about fat, how to control your intake, and how that will speed your weight loss.

Disastrous weekend leaves Grizzlys in third place

Olds
Grizzlys

by Robert Magee
Review writer

The icy weather was an omen for the Olds Grizzlys this weekend as they travelled up to a very cold Fort McMurray to take on the Oil Barons.

On Friday night, the Grizzlys looked certain to win as they jumped out to an early 3-0 lead. But eight minutes later, the Oil Barons tied the game at three a piece and late in the third scored the winner leaving Olds just one point ahead of them for second place in the Alberta Junior League standings.

As usual Tomas Zelenka and Luke Gergel were on the score sheet, each racked up two points, and goaltender Stephan Wagner stopped 39 shots in a losing cause.

The Grizzlys however, rarely lose two games in a row but the next night proved even more of a heartbreak for Olds than the previous night's game.

The Grizz were ahead 5-4 on the Oil Barons when Fort McMurray tied the game up with only 1:21 seconds remaining, sending the teams into overtime, twenty-four seconds later, the Oil Barons moved up to sole possession of second place in the standings and sent the Grizzlys to their second loss in a row and into a tie for third place with the Saint Albert Saints.

Olds is quickly slipping out of contention for first place as they trail the leading Calgary Canucks by eight points.

There are only two games remaining before the Grizzlys get a Christmas break, both games against the Calgary Royals.

On Wednesday they're in Calgary and on Friday they play at home.

Pool splashings

Special to the Review

The annual maintenance shutdown at the DAC is drawing to a close and we look forward to reopening on Monday, December 18. The day is not only special because we are open again, but also because you can swim for free when you bring a food bank donation for your admission fee. You can swim during Early Bird from 6-9 a.m., during lap/family swim from 12-1, public 3-5, public 6-8, or during adult swim from 8-9 p.m. This happens only on Monday, December 18 and we look forward to providing this opportunity to you and to providing your great donations to Santa's Helpers in Didsbury. With Christmas soon approaching and with it the school holidays, we have a special Christmas schedule in effect. Our holiday schedules provide lots of opportunity for swimming and/or skating and we look forward to accommodating your holiday fun here at the pool and the arena.

With Christmas, also comes winter and with winter comes cold weather. While swimming accidents rarely occur during the winter, please keep in mind that under ice is water and, thus, a potentially dangerous situation. Cold or very cold water was mentioned in the most recent Alberta Drowning Report as being involved in nine 1991-92 fatalities. Exposure/hypothermia was cited as a death factor in three of these fatalities. Ice fishing, Christmas tree hunting and family outings are some events that you might participate in that can involve walking on ice and being outside in cold weather. Please make sure that you are prepared for these or other activities that you might participate in. To avoid a possible hypothermia situation, remember when going outside in cold weather to dress appropriately - cover your head, face, hands and feet and wear layers of warm clothing (this way you can shed layers if necessary). You should also eat high energy food that will provide extra energy you may need and pay attention to changing weather conditions. Take proper equipment with you, such as a first aid kit, water, matches, flashlight, blankets and even extra food.

Some basic ice safety facts

Birdie on the rise. Lang Chanthavong is on hand every Tuesday from 6:30 to 9 p.m. as coordinator of the adult badminton program. All are welcome, from high school teens and up, for a $2 drop-in fee. Chanthavong always has an extra racquet or two for those who forget theirs and will join a game if players come up short for a fourth. Numbers have been down in recent weeks due to the cold weather but are expected to rise when the temperature does. photo by Elaine Wilson.

Firing ring

Hello to Ringette with a ring and a stick. Five skaters per side on duty, Alberta, the best on the planet to date, Skate pirates of ringetted booty.

There's many a mumble in sports nowadays, Greed city, how bad it can get, But keep this in mind, those who look will still find, Clean, quality games like Ringette.

Ringette, born in North Bay of Mr. Sam Jacks, 1963 launched the endeavour, 60,000 young women play Canada wide, Starting five years of age to whatever.

In hockey equipment, their game is finesse, No contact that touches the heart, Albertans and World Champs both one and the same, Only which year can tell them apart.

These days it's co-ed for the youngest to test, Overall, wouldn't Sam Jacks be proud, To think he invented a sport for young girls, That's grown to include a class crowd.

that also might help you on your outing for Christmas trees or for ice fishing include making sure that the ice is a minimum of 15 cm for walking on, 20 cm for larger groups and 25 cm for snowmobiles. If you are driving on the ice, the ice must be a minimum thickness of 40 cm. Always go with a friend if you plan to be on open ice (or any ice). Have safety equipment available, such as ropes or poles, to help out in case of breaking through the ice. Unsafe ice includes ice on wind-swept lakes, on fast-running streams, ice during thawing spells, where there is water on the surfaces of the ice and where there are cracks in the ice. Check by having an adult cut a hole in the ice and measuring. The best rule to follow is "If you do not know anything about an ice-covered area - Stay Off." Educate yourself and reduce the risk. Prepare - Stay Safe - Survive. We have more information about ice safety at the DAC - if you are interested in knowing more please drop in and pick some up.

Cremona minor hockey and ringette news

by Ryan Robertson
Special to the Review

Thursday night a Belles Ringette game was scheduled between Cremona and Beiseker. Entering only their fourth game, Cremona didn't really know what to expect, but remained optimistic. Early, Stacy Kinch scored. Beiseker countered to tie it and scored once more to take a 2-1 lead.

The play continued flowing back and forth. Cory Packer then scored the first of her two goals that night tying it at two.

The first period ended with Beiseker leading 6-3. As the second frame started our Cremona Belles found themselves in a hole, down 8-3. But a drive started when Jennifer McKinnon scored and from that point on, the girls scored four more times to tie the now tremendously exciting game at eight.

The strength of Cremona was their defense and their goalie had taken a stand.

Time ran down and a steal of the ring in the dying seconds by Beiseker, an excellent shot and a goal scored, prevented goalie Dusty Kinch of the Cremona Pee Wees from doing the impossible.

On Friday night, November 24th, the crowd gathered at the arena. The opposition was Okotoks and our Bantam team, fresh off a roller-coaster ride the last couple of weeks, dug in their heels and prepared for what would be a learning experience.

The previous weekend, an outstanding team effort allowed them to post a 12-1 victory over Airdrie. #62 Wade Kinch scored five goals and three assists.

The weekend before, they had known the other side of the picture as Airdrie had defeated them 10-3.

Brad Wilson would be the first to react by scoring a short-handed goal to tie the game at one, after one.

In the second, Cremona got a bit of an edge by scoring twice, first by John Wiedmark and then by Jeff Backstrom who scored the first of a hat trick on this night. The second period ended with Cremona enjoying a 3-1 lead.

In the third, Jeff scored his second and third goals to ensure victory, the last a short-handed counter and icing on the cake. The final score, Cremona 5 - Okotoks 3.

The annual realignment meeting was held November 20th in Carstairs. Representing Cremona Minor Hockey and Ringette in their official capacities were President Jerry Harvey and our new Director of Hockey, Kevin Ryan. Also attending was League Governor for the CAMHA West Division Pee Wees, Patty Ryan.

Decisions reached affecting Cremona were: the Atom team moved from B1 to B2. In Pee Wees, Stoney moved down to C1 and Crossfield entered the league and kept it intact with six teams. In Bantam B2, Drumbeller was moved up. In the Midget category, nothing changed.

The Novices had Crossfield enter the picture. With the necessary changes and shuffles made, it was now time to compete league play.

In Novice 2 action on Saturday, November 25th, a very strong game was played by both Cremona and Olds. The saw-battle continued the whole way through and neither team gave an inch. The final score of 7-7 was fitting and well deserved. Shane Bellamy had a great game on defense for Cremona, constantly breaking down plays and clearing the zone. Offensively, Gallup was strong. Jeremy Zinter at center never really broke free as we are all accustomed by nature, but played a key checking role. Cordell Wigton played as a Novice after a previous role earlier with the Dynamites. A team effort was prevalent and hard workers paid dividends. Myles Marcinuck carried the puck on rushes; everybody did their job.

In the end, down a goal, Cremona showed tremendous heart. Trevor Hindes scored the very exciting 7th goal flipping it high over the downed Olds goalie.

To end hockey on this weekend, our Atoms faced off against Gleichen. This game proved to be their finest hour this season, characterized not only by good play, but a genuine team desire to do well and finish off at both ends.

In goal Jesse Novak continued to impress and made several key saves. On defense, Jason Riki played well particularly in the third when he shut down Gleichen's top scoring threat. Paul Tayan Jr. continued his steady play on defence as well. Up front, the forward lines were flying. Marty Wig, Ryan Blackwell, John Arbuckle, Little Bogis and Chace the Ace Klinck all provided great entertainment. The remaining heart such as Jesse Shurmer did that gutsy grinding.

But they trailed 6-4 after two. Courage took over in the third, however, and a four goal outburst unanswered, plus not a single shot on goal by Gleichen would satisfy their desires.
